Weather, Sand Wonderful For Castle Contest

The weather was wonderful and the sand splendidly workable for the contestants who constructed 198 creations on the beach Sunday in the fifth annual Great Sand Castle Contest sponsored by the Monterey Bay Chapter, American Institute of Architects. Avant garde, bas relief, conventional, historical, comical, imaginative — all these types and more, too, were inspected by 1,000 or so persons and eight judges.

When the awards were announced it was disclosed that Castle Colossal, built by Jim Thatcher and Dick Wright, had won the overall grand prize—a golden shovel. First runner up was Cosa Nostra constructed by George Goyer, Jim and Suzy West, Bob and Sharon Easton, Ruth and Tony Cohan. Second runner up was Donegal Castle created by Fred Nolan.

Awards in the Advanced Sand Box class went to Bahai Temple—Don Boykin, April Edwards, Dan Myers, Bill Stover; Ode to Antonio Gaudi—Susan Dodds, Dan Hulphers, John Flammang, Ray Pearson; Lhasa — James Vickrey and Ray Engelman; Rustic Hideaway — Eliza Boyer and friends; Temple of the Sun—Andy Smith and Daphne Myers; Fish — Bob Means; Eskimo Village — Carr Pecknold; Sun Castle — Steve Brown; Pyramid — Irene Lim, Janet Wolcot; Medieval Castle — Mark and Mike Neeson, Gae Phillips, Stephen Hamilton, Doris Hale; Neptune's Daughter—Keith Wooddell; Dragon — Mary Fries and Peggy Edwards.

In the Novice Sand Pile Class (least hampered by adults) awards went to No Name—Lesa and Ginny Smith; The Chair—Jessica Gressett; The Mermaid — Elizabeth Byeres; Carmel's Birthday Cake—Scott Kieth, Jon Benson, Peggy Dehnert; King Arthur's Square Castle—Suzy, Mike, Steve

Youth Center Drive Short 40 Per Cent

Carmel Youth Center is still short about 40% in its fund drive, Wednesday, Ron Parsons, president, Pam Quiswok, junior representative, Sandi Bauman, activities, Debbie Monroe, secretary, Linda Shelton, historian, and Sheri Shelton, freshman representative, met with the adult board of directors to discuss methods of raising additional funds. Projects involving use of the Bingmobile trailers, a broom sale and a fashion show during Carmel's 50th Anniversary were planned. Robert Shirley presided over the meeting attended by Eva Belangee, Ian Blangee, George Mosolf, P. A. McCreery, new member Tom Duncan, Bill Bartlett, Michael Meheen and Allman Cook.

Admiral Fisher Gains Planners' Support On Roads

The Monterey Peninsula is not a place for thundering speed and multi-lane speedways, Admiral C. W. Fisher, president of the Carmel Citizens Committee told the Carmel Planning Commission yesterday afternoon.

"This is a place of retirement and peace. We want slow meandering roads that will not destroy our hills, valleys, trees and native shrubs," he stressed in his appeal to the commission to stop all further freeway development on the Peninsula.

Support of his proposal was "the wisest, most foreseeing step that this body can take," he added.

The commission agreed with him and voted unanimously to prepare

Mission Tract Annexation One Step Ahead

The Monterey County Local Agency Formation Commission, meeting in Salinas Tuesday night, unanimously approved the request of a group of Mission Tract II residents to proceed with the next step in annexing to the City of Carmel, with the condition that an amended legal description of the area be resubmitted within 15 days. Yesterday afternoon, a revised boundary description was agreed upon by county and city engineers and a notice of intention by the proponents to proceed with their work is published in this edition of The Pine Cone. The area in question is bounded by the east side of Rio Road, west side of Dolores Street, Santa Lucia Street and the back line of lots on the south side of Franciscan Way.

In approving their resolution, commissioners made no reference to Richard B. Carr's statement that he and "several property owners on the south side of Franciscan Way would request our properties be excluded from this annexation."

The commission's decision came following a review and a hearing in which both opponents and proponents gave their views. Commissioner Edward W. Whitaker of Pacific Grove pointed out that the agency's responsibility is no more than to rule upon the request from the standpoint of economical and geographical feasibility — at this stage, the ultimate decision rests with the residents of the area seeking annexation. The action was further explained by Edwin A. McCauley, assistant county administrator, who said, "A responsible group has indicated a desire for greater municipal-type services, without presenting a problem of

'Good-Bye Floyd'

When a man, who has lived in Carmel for over half a century and served the city for over a quarter of a century retires, former Mayors, city councilmen, planning commissioners and a former city attorney turn out to bid him farewell as well as present heads of all city departments, the Mayor and councilmen, planning commissioners, friends and those who have worked with him in the "city family" now and in the past.

Such a "good-bye" was accorded Carmel's director of planning Floyd Adams, yesterday afternoon in city hall after his last planning commission meeting. Those who gathered shared a huge cake and coffee with the man who knows Carmel inside and out, better than any other citizen.

Floyd Adams came to Carmel in 1911 as a child. In 1937, he succeeded his father, Birney Adams, as the city's building inspector, later became the city's first director of planning. His total service to the city is 26 years.

Floyd's future plans are to travel. Consequently, the planning commission, yesterday, gave him a collection of travel books.

Letter To Editor

Editor,
Carmel Pine Cone

We try to be of help to those people who still own shares in the former Carmel Playhouse, or in case that they are not living any longer, to the estate of these shareholders.

The majority of the former stockholders of the Carmel Playhouse, which was sold over a year ago, have received the money for their shares from the bank. Some have mislaid or lost share certificates. In this case we are in the position to furnish them necessary documents, or the executors of their estate.

The names of these persons are: George W. and Ada Addison, C. A. Bachelder, Mrs. Charles Bigelow, Herbert Dean, Katherine M. Dennis, G. Anne Douglass, Molly Grenier, Mrs. Martha Wishon Jarrell, Mrs. Augusta M. Norris, Walter T. Pendergast, Charles S. and Lois Wesley, John D. Wibby, Eleanor M. Williams, Agnes L. Williston.

Anyone who can help us to locate any of these people please write to Community Theatre of the Monterey Peninsula, P. O. Box A-L, or telephone 624-2669.

Sincerely,
Fritz T. Wurzmann,

In addition to the awards, 720 lollipops were distributed to the children on the beach for good effort in their sand building. Noticeable, this year, were the number of teen-agers and young people competing in the Advanced Sand Box class.

After the contest was over, the marshals left the fog drifting in over the beach and went to Grand Marshal Don and Betty Brown's home for a potluck supper. The night before the marshals had constructed award cards adorned with a starfish and ribbon. They were, in addition to Don, Gene Takigawa, David Smith, Eddie Fischer and Jim Brady.

The difficult task of judging nearly 200 castles was the responsibility of Joe Ataide, Hugh Bayless, George Kuska, Don Goodhue, Don Wald, Ted Minnis, Boris Jacoubowsky, Dr. Harris Taylor, Steven Sassoon and Clarence Bates.

Shoes Mean More Than Business To The Rowe Family Of Carmel

Mr. and Mrs. James Rowe and Deen Rowe

by Carol van den Berg

Thousands of busy feet have been fitted with comfort and grace in the Shoe Box and the Village Shoe Tree over the past 18 years. The owner of both shops, James Rowe, a dynamic personality on the Carmel scene, is presently serving as president of the Monterey Chamber of Commerce.

Rowe holds membership in the Carmel Rotary Club, the Elks and the Masons. He is past president of the Carmel Business Association and now is serving on its board of directors.

Mr. and Mrs. Rowe have two sons, Don and Deen, who both attended Carmel schools. The older one, Don, is living elsewhere. Deen is a partner in his father's shoe company.

Mrs. Rowe was active in the Eastern Star and belongs to the Hammond Organ Society. "I like to play jazz on the organ!" she said. But her biggest hobby has been working with her husband, sporadically designing new shoes for their stores. With a smile, she said, "Our business is a family enterprise." Mrs. Rowe pioneered the medium high heel in America some eight years ago. She was also one of the originators of colorful fabrics in shoewear.

Deen studied shoe manufacturing in Switzerland and last year designed casual shoes, called Dino's, that were made to order in Italy.

When asked about some of the new trends in shoe fashion, Rowe answered, "Women's shoe styles seem to go in cycles every seven years from the pointed toes to the extremely round toes. And the heel shapes change as the skirt length changes. The higher the hemline on the skirt, the lower the heel."

Shoe manufacturing is a complicated process. In Europe, where most of the shoes are made by hand, they make only one width for the women. But when exporting to America, they make five widths, the same choice that our women are accustomed to having. Shoes are made by machines in America and handmade shoes are almost a lost craft over here. In manufacturing a shoe, fabrics, length, width, depth, colors, heel heights, and accessories such as buckles are involved. It takes 130 different operations to make a shoe. Between the time of ordering a pair of shoes, and its delivery, six weeks elapse.

Rowe buys shoes in Switzerland and Italy. For most of his finest shoes, he goes to New York. For the popular shoe, he buys out of St. Louis. And for casual wear, Los Angeles is where he trades. Approximately 20 per cent of the shoe sales today are canvas wear, he stated.

Thinking back over the years he has lived in Carmel, Rowe said, "Carmel's growth has been carefully controlled to maintain the relaxed atmosphere of a village. I think it is more attractive now than it was when I first came here. And the ready-to-wear and gift areas are second to no other area."

The Rowes recently purchased a 25 foot travel trailer. "With a trailer, we can go to out-of-the-the-way places, and eat what we want. Trailer camping is glorified camping" Rowe said with enthusiasm.

His brother-in-law, Arthur Plaxton, Carmel's finance officer, first introduced them to their new venture.

BATTLE OF THE BULGE (Warners). Only a real war could be more authentic than the reel war that was prepared for filming "Battle of The Bulge," the epic World War II drama.

In addition to more than 700 fighting men, the scenes employed the services of 52 manned Tiger tanks, 10 half-tracks, 300 mausers, 125 MI Garand rifles, 50 carbines, 20 sub-Thompsons, 12 Browning machine guns, 25 grenade launchers, assorted bazookas and Colt automatics.

The location was almost as bloody and fraught with hardship as the memorable battle itself fought 20 years earlier in the Ardennes Forest of Belgium. The snow-covered mountains, icy roads, ankle-deep mud, blizzards and zero temperatures are the perfect settings for "Battle of The Bulge," but were uncomfortably hazardous for men and machines. Lady Bird Dedicates Coast Highway

After planting a tree at Colton Hall with State Senator Farr of Carmel and California's Governor Edmund G. Brown watching, Mrs. Lyndon B. Johnson, the President's wife, went to Bixby Creek Bridge to dedicate Monterey County's coast road as the first unit in the State Scenic Highway System on September 21. At Bixby, Carmel Middle School students Charles Schetter, Tony Hittleman, Glen Harnish and Jim Arn, waited to have copies of Senator Farr's Scenic Highway Bill signed by the First Lady, Governor Brown and Secretary of the Interior Stewart L. Udall. Mr. and Mrs. Nathaniel Owings of Big Sur greeted Mrs. Johnson. Later she visited their home where a photograph of the coast by Ansel Adams of Carmel Highlands was given to Mrs. Johnson. Mr. Owings helped frame the Coast Master Plan. Mrs. Owings is a member of the State Park Commission. Praised at the dedication for the work he and his commission had done in framing zoning to protect the beauty of the coast road was Keith Evans of Carmel, chairman of the Monterey County Planning Commission. Listening to Mr. Owings' welcoming speech (l to r) are Monterey's Mayor Minnie Coyle, Mrs. Brown, Senator Farr, Secretary Udall and Governor Brown.

Silver Wedding Anniversary

On Tuesday, Major Charles R. Carter (USA ret) and Mrs. Carter of Mission Fields were honored with a family party in celebration of their 25th wedding anniversary. The couple was married in Sacramento on September 28, 1941, and have made their home in Carmel for some 11 years, with time out for extensive traveling since Major Carter's retirement. He entered service at Fort Ord and retired 24 years later in Alaska.

Their elder daughter, Charlann, a graduate of San Francisco State College, was here from Alameda, where she is employed with the county probation department. Also making the party a success were the Carters' sons, Bob, now awaiting orders from the armed forces, and Joe, a student at Middle School, also their daughter, Claire, who was born here.

Hills Here And There

Jennie-Keith Hill has returned to Northwestern University to continue graduate work in socio-anthropological studies after a vacation here with her parents, the Paul Hills. Her brother, Bill, is reported to be enjoying the University of Colorado, where he has enrolled as a business major.

Foreign Project Under Way

Chris Williams, his wife and their almost-four son, Farrell, have left New York to embark on a year of travel in a camper-truck through Europe and North Africa. An industrial designer, Chris will photograph and do the text for a proposed book about the functional tools and artifacts which have been in use for a long time and remain in use in the countries they visit. A graduate of Carmel schools, he is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Meade Williams of Carmel.

Nameless Newcomer

Mr. and Mrs. James Davis (Pam Perry) left their Mission Fields house about 7 a.m. yesterday to drop off two and a half-year-old Kristi at the home of her grandparents, the Tom Perrys, en route to Community Hospital. A scant two hours later, the Davises' new daughter was born. The as yet unnamed newcomer is the granddaughter, also, of Mr. and Mrs. Vern Davis of Salem, Oregon.

Airborne Carmelites

With the close of the sailing season at Stillwater Cove, Mark Raggett has taken to the air. With Mrs. Raggett, he flew to London Friday on the first lap of a month's vacation in Europe during which they will visit Moscow, Budapest, Vienna and Paris, among other smaller cities. Friends from San Jose will occupy their home while the Raggetts are away.

The trip is a rather special one, in that it was awarded to Mark by David B. Carmel and Company in a sweepstakes contest. His was a duplicate prize of one given to an Oregon woman who listed her Carmel Products retail dealer as M. Raggett, Inc., in Carmel.

Captivating Hawaii

Mrs. Gene (Helen) Ricketts and Mrs. Bernard (Ruth) Roberts must hold some kind of a record for sightseeing in and around Honolulu. They flew home Tuesday, badly in need of a rest after ten days of "relaxation" which included swimming every day, cruises around Pearl Harbor and the entire Island of Oahu, all the night clubs they could manage—luaus, hula shows and a spectacular dinner at the revolving tower restaurant on the 22nd floor of the Waikiki Professional Building. Singer-entertainer Don Ho completely captured their fancy, and you can bet they'll have front row tables when he appears in San Francisco.

No Place Like Home

Mick and Niki McMahan are discovering the delights and discomforts of New York City after extensive rambling around the country since leaving California. They arrived in style aboard a boat in which they had cruised from Boston—but that was the day, of course, that the metropolis received five and a half inches of rain! Now, Mick is starting classes at Columbia and Niki is coping with their housing and such catastrophes as having had all her clothes stolen.

However, they've already had dinner with Stewart and Ciji (Ware) Billett and life in New York suddenly seems brighter.

Rhode Island Residents

Floyd Smith, whose wife is the former Pam Petersen of Carmel, has gone into the Naval Engineering Corps. The young couple, who were married in Carmel last February, have moved from Walnut Creek to make their home in Newport, Rhode Island.

Peter Conway In Europe

Adventures aplenty have been the fare of Peterson Conway during his travels through 13 countries in Europe and the British Isles. Modest accomodations while hitchhiking have been interspersed with such elegance as the hospitality of an estate fabulous enough to warrant its own postcard. Pete, who attended Monterey Peninsula College, will enter l'Alliance Francaise in Paris next month and after a year will return to continue his studies at San Francisco State College.

Pete, the son of Mrs. Quila Conway, played football at Carmel High as did his elder brother, Cimarron (Cim), who is now in San Francisco as sales representative for Philco on the West Coast. Still on the gridiron at CHS is Scott.

STEINBECK "FLIGHT"

The expressive face above is that of Efrain Ramirez, who plays the lead role of Pepe in "Flight," a film based on a John Steinbeck story which will have its premiere at the Steinbeck Theatre tomorrow night at 8:30 o'clock. Much of the motion picture was filmed at locations on the Fish and Morain ranches here and, with one exception, all the amateur actors are Mexican-Americans from Monterey County.

To add festive informality to the premier of "Flight" tomorrow night, Stuyvesant Fish will open his Rancho Palo Corona home for a cocktail party to which invitations have been issued by the producers of the film. A number of San Franciscans will be on hand, as well as some Hollywood celebrities, and a few local friends of John Steinbeck, whose story was the basis for the film. Mr. and Mrs. Aime Michaud will also entertain with a buffet supper at Del Monte Lodge before the premier.

Whelans Back At School

After graduating from Monterey Peninsula College in June, Bart Whelan has enrolled at Sacramento State College to major in criminology. His sister, Diane, received her B.A. from UCLA this year and is now studying for a teaching credential at Long Beach State College. Both will be home occasionally to visit their mother, Mrs. Jack Martin, and Mr. Martin.

James E. Smith

Services for James Eaton Smith, 47, who died Tuesday evening after suffering an apparent heart attack at his home on Rio Road, will be held tomorrow at 1 p.m. at the Paul Mortuary, with the Reverend Harris Pillsbury officiating. Entombment will follow at El Carmelo Cemetery Mausoleum, Pacific Grove.

A recent resident, Mr. Smith was born October 25, 1918, in Chicago, Illinois. He was a veteran of World War II.

He leaves his wife, Betty, a daughter, Kimberly and a son, Geoffrey, all of Carmel; another son, Bradley, of San Mateo; three sisters and a brother.

Contributions in memory of Mr. Smith are preferred to Central Mission Trails Heart Association, Box 191, Monterey.

Ellen Enjoyed England

Ellen Fielding, daughter of Mrs. Rutledge Bray of Carmel, has returned to her studies at Carmel High School after enchanting travels in England and Scotland where she "loved all the little inns" and picturesque villages. While in the British Isles, she was the guest of her uncle and aunt, Dr. and Mrs. Gerald Silverberg (Donna Work). Dr. Silverberg is studying at the National Institute of Neurosurgery in London.

In London now to visit the Silverbergs and to be on hand for the arrival of their second child is Mrs. Thomas Work Jr., who flew to England this week.

Europe Briefly Visited

Mrs. Barbara Dickson is back in Carmel after a refreshing month's trip abroad. With her older son, Roger, she flew to London early in August, and visited friends in the English capital and on the Cornwall coast. From Paris, they went to Biarritz to join Jack and Micheline Geisen, who accompanied them to San Sebastian and several other Spanish towns — traveling with Jack, Barbara says, is slightly reminiscent of Scott Fitzgerald's world and infinitely amusing.

The Dicksons took a train to Genoa, then rented an auto to drive to Rome, and down the Italian coast. Roger is now driving his VW bus across the country from New York and will re-enter UC Berkeley in January.

Mrs. Dickson's younger son, Rob, is home after boot camp training with the U. S. Naval Reserve.

PARTY PLANS . . .

By Phyllis Jervey

ALBACORE RUNS AGAIN!

It's almost like old sardine times! Albacore presently are keeping the fishing fleet hustling around the clock in Monterey Bay. Commercial and sports fishermen are reaping awards and predict a top season through October. This type of game fishing is thrilling for both pro and amateur with marvelous meals resulting from their catch.

Known to most of us as tuna, just caught white-meated albacore are in profusion at Monterey's Old Fisherman's Wharf these days. We now can enjoy barbecuing the freshest sweet albacore steaks, a rare change of pace and taste from summer's hot dog and hamburger routine.

Fortunately for us, albacore are now in a biting mood. When they are "hot," they often meet the bait in midair, but when "cold" nothing will tempt them according to Old Wharf hands. So PARTY PLANS rides again, this time on seafarers' luck, with the following diversified recipes for ocean fresh albacore. Later it will be frozen or canned "chicken of the sea" to please all ages.

Do you recall the beloved classic Western casserole of one can each tuna and mushroom soup with crushed potato chips? Children adore eating tuna right from the can while weight watchers now have the diet kind packed in water and made delicious with a tart vinaigrette and caper dressing.

MONTEREY BARBECUED ALBACORE
(Serves 4)

Two lb. albacore steak one inch thick. Marinate in following sauce: ⅓ cup melted butter; 1 tbsp. lemon juice; 1 tbsp. snipped parsley; 1 tsp. salt; ⅛ tsp. cayenne; 1 tbsp. minced onion; 1 garlic clove, mashed; good pinch, each, crumbled oregano and dill.

Grill steaks over just right charcoal, turning with wide spatula only once. Cook 10 minutes on each side until fish flakes with a fork. Do not overcook. Serve piping hot with extra sauce served on the side.

The albacore steak shows off to best advantage on a wooden plank enhanced with fresh dill weed, broiled tomatoes and lemon cups. A dashing Caesar salad with sourdough Italian toasted bread slices boasting garlic and Parmesan, adds rather than detracts from the fine fresh sea flavor of Monterey's latest gift from the Pacific Ocean. A good Chianti whets the appetite for more.

ALBACORE BARBACOA

Six albacore steaks; ½ tsp. fennel seed; ⅓ cup lemon juice; 3/4 cup salad (sesame) oil; quick dash of Tabasco; pitted ripe olives; paprika and watercress.

Mix fennel seed, lemon juice, oil and Tabasco sauce. Marinate fish in this for at least 30 minutes. Wrap each steak in large squares of quilted foil. Double seal top and ends by folding edges over each other several times. Place on rack over hot coals. Broil for about half an hour, turning after 15 minutes of cooking. Open foil packages carefully to save all juices. Slide fish onto heated plates and pour juices over them. Brighten with olives, paprika and watercress. Tiny whole pickled beets, artichoke hearts and asparagus tips with fresh firm tomato and avocado slices, dressed in an olive oil and wine vinegar melange, provides a deserving accompaniment.

Add hot corn muffins. Have you tried the packaged ones, halved and ready to pop into your toaster? This is also true with round or square waffles pre-baked for busy you, depending on your toaster or grocer. Top them with jelly, chutney or homemade preserves.

Dining in the Japanese manner, as we know it on the Monterey Peninsula, is unhurried and a charming pastime. Here's a version of the famous sukiyaki, always cooked right at the table and served without further fuss. This is where tuna stars in a sweet-sour Japanese-inspired dish combining pineapple and rice.

TUNA-SUKIYAKI

Four stalks celery; cut in 2-inch pieces; 3 medium onions, sliced; 1 medium tomato, cut in wedges; 2 medium carrots, sliced; 1 medium green pepper, cut in rings; 2 cans (7 ozs. each), best white chunk tuna (or equivalent in cooked fresh albacore). Drain the canned fish. One-fourth cup soy sauce; 2 cloves garlic, crushed; 1 cup beef bouillon made from cube and boiling water; 1 tbsp. sugar; ½ tsp. ground ginger; 1 can (7 oz.) pineapple slices with syrup; ⅓ cup white wine vinegar; 3 cups fluffy cooked white rice.

Steam the vegetables in a tiny bit of boiling water in shallow pan minus cover until just tender. Add cooked albacore or drained white tuna chunks (do not break up). Make a sauce with rest of ingredients by simmering until blended. Pour over tuna and vegetables and keep hot in hibachi or chafing dish. Pass hot rice in individual rice bowls. Chopsticks add authenticity. The way to learn how to use them is to try out one grain of cooked rice at a time . . . but this would take too long . . . so a good old U.S. fork will surely do.

For a final tuna offering let's have the next recipe.

ROYAL CASINO TUNA SANDWICH

ROYAL CASINO TUNA SANDWICH
(Open-Face)
(Serves 6)

Three-fourths cup mayonnaise; ¼ cup chili sauce; 2 tbsps. chopped green onion; ½ cup sour cream; 1 (8-¾ oz.) can pineapple tidbits; 6 slices French bread; butter; western iceberg lettuce; 12 thin firm tomato slices; 1 can (7 oz.) best white tuna chunks or equivalent in cooked fresh or frozen albacore; 3 sliced hard cooked eggs; seasoned salt, pepper, paprika; lemon juice.

Combine mayonnaise, chili sauce and onion. Fold in sour cream and drained pineapple. Toast and butter bread; arrange tomato slices, some tuna chunks and 4 egg slices on top of each piece of toast. Sprinkle all with seasoned salt, pepper, paprika and lemon juice. Put on individual plates. Pass pineapple dressing. Makes a beautiful bridge luncheon for the gals . . . after their fishermen have brought them the fruits of the sea.

If you do need a dessert, try the excitingly easy recipe which follows.

POTPOURRI HOT FRUIT COMPOTE
(Serves 6)

One (1-lb. 4½ oz.) can pineapple slices; 1 (1-lb.) can whole apricots; 3 oranges; 1/3 cup honey; ½ tsp. cornstarch; 2 tbsps. butter; 1 (1-lb.) can dark sweet cherries; 2 tbsps. cointreau or other liqueur or flavoring.

Drain pineapple, saving syrup, and apricots. Put fruits in shallow oven-to-table decorative baking dish. Grate or coarsely shred peel of an orange over fruit. Squeeze its juice and mix with ½ cup pineapple syrup, honey and cornstarch. Peel and section 2 oranges, add to fruits. Cover all with honey mixture. Dot with butter. Bake in moderate oven (350 F.) about 10 min. Add cherries with syrup and heat 10 min. longer. Sprinkle with liqueur to taste. Serve with sour cream and shredded orange peel. Use diet pack sugar-free fruits and juices for low-calorie fans, skipping the sour cream.

SUZANNE BROWNELL WED IN FLORIDA

SUZANNE

Dr. Raymond Brownell traveled to Pompano Beach, Florida, last month to give his granddaughter, Suzanne Brownell, in marriage. Suzanne's wedding to Roger Frederick Reinking took place August 6 at St. Martin-In-The-Fields Episcopal Church.

The bride is the daughter of Mrs. Lawrence P. Lansing of Fort Lauderdale, Florida, and the late Raymond E. "Bud" Brownell, who was killed in action off the Philippines while a lieutenant in the U. S. Navy during World War II. He will be remembered as one of the outstanding young golfers of the Peninsula and country. At the age of 16, he tied the course record at Del Monte and his course record of 66 at Pebble Beach, made in 1942 while he was at Stanford University, stood unbroken until 1963. He was also a member of the Stanford team which won the Intercollegiate Golf Championship in 1941 and 1942.

The namesake of her aunt Suzanne (Mrs. Norman McLean of Calumet, Michigan), who grew up in Carmel, the new Mrs. Reinking is a graduate of Santa Catalina School for Girls and of Stephens College. She attended the American University in Washington, D. C. and received her B. A. from the University of Colorado last June.

Her husband is the son of Mrs. Frederick H. Reinking of Schleswig, Iowa, and the late Mr. Reinking. After attending Iowa State University, he earned a B. S. degree at the University of South Dakota and his M. S. degree at the University of Missouri. A member of Phi Beta Kappa, Mr. Reinking is now engaged in doctoral studies at Colorado State University at Fort Collins, where the couple will make their home.

Singer In Colorado

Dewie Dutton, who has delighted audiences here and elsewhere with her original songs and interpretations of Mexican and American folksongs, has deserted the Peninsula for Colorado.

October Wedding Planned

Jean Kathryn Serpell of Daytona Beach, Florida, will be married to Ray Stumbo, chairman of the social studies department at Carmel High School, at the Carmel Highlands Inn chapel on October 15. The noon ceremony will be performed by Dr. George Hunter Hall of Carmel Presbyterian Church.

Miss Serpell is the daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Robert Serpell. A language instructor at Mainland Senior High School in Daytona Beach, she is a graduate of Stephens College and the University of North Carolina and holds a master's degree from Stetsch University. She is a member of Alpha Delta Kappa, Delta Delta Delta, the American Association of Teachers of French and the National Education Association.

Her fiance, the son of Mrs. Barbara Elofson of Salem, Oregon, took his B. A. and M. A. degrees at the University of Oregon, where he was affiliated with Kappa Sigma fraternity. He is a member of the executive board of the California Council for Social Studies and belongs also to the California Teachers Association. Mr. Stumbo was on the staff of the Adjutant General at Bordeaux, France, while in service.

A Daughter For The Drewiens

Diane Roberta is the name of Mr. and Mrs. Max Drewien's new daughter, who arrived at Community Hospital on September 15. At the Drewiens' Carmel Valley home, she joins Linda, Deborah and David. Two other sisters, Mrs. Robert Bratty and Mrs. Carolyne Lee, and a brother, Max, are Pacific Grove residents, as is her grandmother, Mrs. Millie Funchess, who formerly made her home in Carmel for many years.

Diane's father is the superintendent of the Carmel Sanitary District's disposal plant.

MARTHA CAMPBELL MARRIED

The chancel of Carmel Presbyterian Church was adorned with pink, coral and white gladioli and white chrysanthemums on Sunday, when Martha Anne Campbell, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Douglas Campbell of Carmel, became the bride of Alberto Ruiz of Guatemala City. Family members and close friends of the bridegroom's family witnessed the afternoon ceremony which was performed by Dr. George Hunter Hall.

Given in marriage by her father, Martha was escorted to the altar wearing a full length gown styled with an Empire bodice of reembroidered lace and an A-line skirt of peau de soie, its chapel train also of peau de soie and lace. A beautiful lace mantilla from Spain covered Martha's hair, and she carried a bouquet of pink roses, white carnations and bouvardia.

The bride's sister, Mrs. Richard (Sally) Gearhart of Oakland, was her sole attendant. Her day-length ensemble was of pink lace with a jacket of matching saki, with which she wore a small pink hat. Various hues of pink carnations made up the bouquet she carried.

Jack Campbell, Martha's brother, was Alberto's best man. Her uncle, Alton Walker, and her brother-in-law, Richard Gearhart, served as ushers.

Following the ceremony, members of the family gathered at the Pebble Beach home of Mr. and Mrs. Alton Walker to congratulate the newlywed couple. Among them were Martha's grandmother, Mrs. Harry C. Rogers of Pebble Beach, and her uncle and aunt, Judge and Mrs. Gordon Campbell, with their daughter, Polly. There to represent the bridegroom's parents, Sr. and Sra. Alberto Ruiz of Guatemala, were their close friends, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Blewett and Dr. and Mrs. Walter A. Payne, all of Stockton.

A native Carmelite, the bride graduated from Sunset and Carmel High schools. She attended Monterey Peninsula College, UC Berkeley and the University of the Pacific, where she majored in Spanish. She is the granddaughter, also, of the late Mr. and Mrs. Argyll Campbell of Carmel.

Her new husband attended school in Guatemala City and has been enrolled at San Joaquin Delta College in Stockton. He has one sister, Sra. Ana Maria Ruiz de Paiz.

The couple will make their home in Guatemala until February, when they will return to the United States. Alberto plans to enroll then at Cal Poly to study agricultural engineering.

A Cake For Mrs. Kocher

After 16, modest celebrations are quite enough for birthdays, but it's still fun to have a cake, especially when your daughter and grandchildren bring it from a hundred or more miles. So, when Sybil Mitchell and her youngsters arrived from Berkeley with a yummy offering on September 18, Mrs. R. A. (Betty) Kocher was delighted to blow out the candles. Also on hand were her cousin's daughter and her husband, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Cajeo, who were here from Arizona to visit the Kochers.

Mission: "Fun"

The Barn in Scotts Valley near Santa Cruz has become a drawing card for young people from that area and those who love jazz, pictures and kooky costumes. Among a group who went over last Saturday night to hear the Mercy Street Blues Machine and the Delhi River Band were the Arnold Bahrs, the John Desmonds, the Ray Browses, Betty Marsh, Tula Amondsen, Viki Stafford, Ted Doran, Mel Rodstadt, Arthur Blate and Eleanor Grantz.

Officers Chosen For Cooperative Nursery

The Carmel Parent Cooperative Nursery at Bay School has opened its doors for the 17th season. With an enrollment of 31 parents and 34 children, aged 2½ to 4 years, the school has two large, sunny rooms, excellent play yards with swings, sandboxes and a playhouse, two sheep, one rabbit, chickens, and many creative activities. School hours are from 9 until 11:45 a.m.

Mrs. Rosa Doner, the director, feels that both children and mothers learn at this strictly cooperative school. Each mother is expected to help at the nursery one morning a week, the day that she is in charge of her particular carpool, and, in addition to this duty, must attend a weekly class and business meeting. The school is within the Carmel Unified School District and the classes are sponsored by the Carmel Adult School.

This year, due to the failure of the override tax, the school's monthly tuition is $11.00 for one child: $16.50 if two children are enrolled from one family. This tuition fee covers the cost of the adult school program.

Officers for the coming year are Mrs. Don Kimble, president; Mrs. Dan Daley, vice-president; Mrs. Gordon Clemens, treasurer; Mrs. Walter Spear, corresponding secretary; Mrs. Harold Seybold, recording secretary.

At the September 12 Parent Meeting, plans were discussed for fund-raising projects, including the annual Bay Day carnival held at the school in the Spring.

The Carmel Parent Cooperative School is sponsoring a special children's performance of The Sound of Music at the Steinbeck Theatre on October 8. All seats are unreserved for this performance only, which will begin promptly at 10 a.m. Tickets are $2.50 each, the proceeds for the benefit of the Little Red Schoolhouse which houses the nursery school.

Tickets may be boughtf rom any adult members of the cooperative school or by phoning Margaret Bell (624-5358), Sue Loomis (624-9482) or Barbara Thompson (624-8945).

Judge Harrah Talks At DAR Meeting

The Commodore Sloat Chapter of the Daughters of the American Revolution commemorated Constitution Week by having Municipal Court Judge Eugene Harrah of Carmel talk at the initial 1966-67 meeting on "The Relation of the Constitution to the Courts."

His talk emphasized the need of man for a formula to govern himself against his own inhumanity to man. Our founding fathers protected and insured future generations their liberty without license in the 6,000 word U. S. Constitution. This has served us well, Judge Harrah said. Our basic rights can be lost if vigilance is not practiced at all times by all the people. Taking each section of the Bill of Rights, Judge Harrah asked his audience to imagine conditions if each point were in reverse.

Congress and the President, representing the executive branch of our government, are subject to the interpretation of the Constitution by the Supreme Court, Judge Harrah stressed.

Mrs. Frank E. La Cauza and Mrs. Carl Menneken were in charge of the meeting.

Mrs. Hellman

Private services for Mrs. Katherine Payne Hellman, who died Sunday at her Carmel home, were held Tuesday in the Little Chapel-by-the-Sea with the Reverend William Hermitage of Santa Cruz officiating.

Mrs. Hellman was born in Clarkston, Washington, December 2, 1898, and had lived in California for 30 years. A resident of Carmel for the past 15 years, she was a former hostess at the June Simpson Restaurant.

Survivors include a daughter, Mrs. Katherine Lee of San Francisco; a son, John Nathan of Barbados, B.W.I.; and three sisters, Flo Payne of Carmel, Mrs. H. J. Guernsey of Santa Cruz and Mrs. Henry Bacon of Seattle.

Friends wishing to make contributions in memory of Mrs. Hellman may do so to All Saints' Episcopal Church, of which she was a member.

Inurnment will take place in Seattle, Washington. The Paul Mortuary is in charge of arrangements.

Lieut. Mitchell

Word has been received here of the death of Lieutenant Warren E. Mitchell in South Korea on September 17. The 26-year-old officer was killed in the crash of a military vehicle while serving with the 7th Infantry Division.

Lieutenant Mitchell was the husband of the former Jacqueline Jordan, who was born in Carmel and is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Jordan, both former Carmelites, and the granddaughter of the late John Jordan, a former Carmel mayor and longtime Pine Inn owner, and Mrs. Jordan.

The young officer was a graduate of the University of Oregon, where he was a member of Delta Upsilon fraternity, the Reserve Officers Training Corps and the Rugby Club.

In addition to his wife, he leaves an infant daughter, Tracy; his mother, Mrs. W. W. Mitchell of Honolulu; and a sister.

Private services were held at Hanaobe Cemetery, on the Island of Oahu, where he was born.

Peace Corps Volunteer Nancy Bibb Tells About Afghanistan 'Village' Life

In Herat, Afghanistan, Nancy Bibb of Carmel and her two Peace Corps companions are a spectacular sight. They are the only unveiled women in that far-away "village" of 100,000, where Nancy and one of the other two English teachers share a house with no plumbing, electricity for only two hours in the evening. What Nancy's parents, Lieutenant Colonel and Mrs. E. Bibb, wonder is how the girls are going to ride the "most personable" donkey their landlord has given them—wearing slacks would be unthinkable under the circumstances. And where do they keep their long-eared friend?

The young volunteer's letters, one of which the Pine Cone quotes in part, are thoughtful and perceptive, presenting a lively commentary of her experiences in Afghanistan. "After finals," Nancy wrote recently, "Jane (her roommate) and I really needed a vacation . . . it was a wise decision, for we came back from Meshed, Iran, with new perspectives. Iran is far more progressive than Afghanistan — it is a rich country, but far more important, it is a vital country. It was only when I was in Iran that I realized how much I had assimilated in Afghanistan, how many of the subtleties of the country I perceive. Afghanistan is a conglomeration of ethnic groups who have no unifying bond. Traditional forces enshroud the country for there is little external stimulation to disrupt those forces—the only exception being in Kabul." Nancy, originally assigned to Kabul, requested a transfer to an area where she might have closer contact with the native people, less with the American community which necessarily exists in the capital of any foreign country.

After indulging in such Western pleasures as cokes and hot showers, in Meshed, the young women returned to Herat "with greater determination to succeed where angels fear to tread. We want to start a girls' club—one based on a very informal structure. We are hoping to have the director of education approve of our scheme and donate some centralized room for the club. We hope to set up kitchen, games, art, sewing areas, etc. If we are lucky, maybe some of the merchants will donate. I already have a CARE sewing machine to donate. We need games, and any help which you can give us or talk your friends into giving us." Considering the social structure, with women only recently out of "purdah," the volunteers' extra-curricular project is indeed an ambitious one. Nancy adds that they hope to finish the seemingly endless task of decorating their house so that they can entertain the Afghans.

Some time ago, the three teachers took a trip through "real" villages, escorted by the nephew of a government official, whose brother turned over his house to them in his village of 30 families. There the women were in evidence only when making bread. On the other hand, the volunteers found the Afghan men's idea of hospitality—constant attendance—most disconcerting. During this trip, they traveled over American-built roads to see a Russian-built dam, encountering a tribe of nomads, fabled black tents and all, who invited them to tea. Nancy observes that the women were extraordinarily beautiful but equally dirty.

"I really like Herat," she writes, "and although I don't feel that I am doing anything great, noble, or intellectual, still I do find life stimulating!"

CANNY COUNSEL by Sagacious Sal

Dear Sal,
I'm torn between becoming a teacher of the mentally retarded or a social worker. Could you please help me in my decision?
Confused

Dear Confused,
With both social work and teaching — it takes considerable ego-strength to withstand the daily bombardments and adjustments required of workers in the field. The outgoing, more social person thrives in this existence.

Your handwriting indicates that you are precise, tenacious, and a quick thinker. It doesn't appear that you would gain satisfaction as a teacher of the mentally retarded where patience and boundless acceptance are virtues. With your high level of concentration and reserved nature, occupation as a research worker, or even in the accounting field should be far more satisfying for you. Go into work where your skills will shine!

Dear Sal,
Having to work for a living is my biggest problem. I would rather go fishing, but I have to keep up with the Jones. J. A.

Dear J.A.,
Most of you likes the challenge of a job where you can create, analyze, and drive ahead. But some still, quiet voice in you occasionally revolts, and says, "there is more to life than work." Because of this, you have developed a well balanced life where many things enter into, and stimulate, your personality. I see no evidence whatsoever that you even in the slightest care what the Joneses do, that is, unless they like fishing!

Anyone may write to Sagacious Sal. However, her consideration is based on handwriting, so letters must be handwritten and addressed to Box G-1, Carmel. Writers need not identify themselves other than by a pseudonym.

Writers Who Have Lived in Carmel

BY HERBERT HERON

FRANCIS ERNEST LLOYD

This distinguished botanist was born in Manchester, England, on October 4, 1868, of Welsh parents. He was educated at Princeton University (A.B. 1891, A. M. 1895); Munich, 1898; Bonn, 1901; University of Wales (honorary D. Sc. 1933) Masaryk University, honorary D. Sc., 1938.

He married Mary Elizabeth Hart, a biology professor, in May, 1903. They had three children of whom two sons survive. They are, Frank Lloyd, living in Carmel, and Dr. David Lloyd, a neurophysiologist on the staff of the Rockefeller Institute for Medical Research in New York.

Dr. Lloyd was instructor at Williams College, then professor of geology and biology, 1892-95; professor of biology at Pacific University, Oregon, 1895-97; professor of biology at Teachers College (Columbia) 1897-1906; investigator with the Carnegie Institution of Washington, 1906; instructor Harvard Summer School, 1907; cytologist Arizona Experimental Station, 1907; director of investigation for Continental - Mexican Rubber Company in Mexico, 1907-08; professor of botany Alabama Polytechnic Institute, 1908-12; Macdonald professor of botany, McGill University, Montreal, 1912-34; consultant United States Rubber Company 1919-33.

He was editor of The Plant World, 1905-08, and undertook botanical explorations in Mexico, 1890; Columbia Expedition to Puget Sound and Alaska, 1896; New York Botanical Garden Expedition to British West Indies, 1903; Java and Sumatra, 1919; South Africa, 1929 and 1935; Australia and New Zealand, 1935-36.

Dr. Lloyd was president of the botanical section of the British Association for the Advancement of Science in 1933; a fellow of the American Association for the Advancement of Science and of the Royal Society of Canada, also president of the Royal Society in 1933; president of American Society of Plant Physiology, 1927. He was a member of the New York Academy of Sciences; California Academy of Sciences; Linnaean Society of London; honorary fellow Edinburgh Botanical Society; honorary member Philadelphia College of Pharmacy; member Botanical Society of America; Torrey Botany Club (editor of bulletin, 1899-1902, treasurer 1902-06) also societies in South America.

Professor Lloyd came with his family to Carmel in 1911 to do research at the Carnegie Coastal Laboratory. They were all active in the social, dramatic, literary and musical life of the village. Professor Lloyd played important roles in the Forest Theater, notably Hernando Cortes in the Aztec tragedy of Montezuma and Father Junipero Serra in Sidney Howard's Sons of Spain. He also played the Curate in Robert Louis Stevenson's Macaire, Father Damien in my Tusitala, and Tavwots in Mary Austin's The Arrow Maker.

His son Frank was Voltimand in the first production of Hamlet in the Forest Theater. His son, David, acted there, too. His grandchildren and great-grandchildren have taken part in some of the children's plays. Frank was editor of the Pine Cone-Cymbal immediately prior to World War II, and Frank's wife, Marjory Lloyd, is the present editor of this most important local weekly, which celebrated its 50th anniversary in 1965, one year ahead of the City of Carmel—or, to be exact, one year and eight months ahead!

Following his retirement, as emeritus professor, from the McGill University faculty, Dr. and Mrs. Lloyd spent two years making a trip around the world before occupying, permanently, the home in Carmel which they had built 24 years earlier. Dr. Lloyd did research and wrote his last book, first at the Carnegie Coastal Laboratory, and when that closed, in the laboratory he built beside his home.

He died in Carmel in 1947.

His published works include: The Teaching of Biology in the Secondary School, 1904; The Comparative Embryology of the Rubiaceae, 1902; The Physiology of Stomata, 1908; Guayule, 1911; The Carnivorous Plants, 1942.

He also wrote many published papers on rubber, cotton, and other botanical subjects. All in all, a rather busy life!

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE SERMON

"For now we see through a glass, darkly; but then face to face: now I know in part; but then shall I know even as also I am known." This passage from I Corinthians is one of many to be read from the Bible as part of the Lesson-Sermon on "Unreality" to be delivered at all Christian Science churches this Sunday.

A correlative passage from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy which will also be read states, "As mortals gain more correct views of God and man, multitudinous objects of creation, which before were invisible, will become visible. When we realize Life is Spirit, never in nor of matter, this understanding will expand into self-completeness, finding all in God, good, and needing no other consciousness." (Pg. 264: 13)

MISS TEEN-AGE CONTESTANTS

Carmel Red Cross Asks Gifts, Cash For Troops In Viet Nam

"Working like beavers," reports Mrs. William Shanner, chairman of volunteers for the Carmel chapter of the Red Cross.

In response to the hurry-up call labeled "Operation Shop Early" 300 Christmas bags in traditional red and green are being assembled for shipment to our troops in South Viet Nam. An October 10 deadline has been set for the shipment to leave Carmel for San Francisco, from where hundreds of Christmas kits will be assembled from all parts of the Western area.

Still needed are new paperback books, plastic soap containers, washcloths and small games which will not take up too much room in the 12-inch bag. Anyone who can not actively participate otherwise but would prefer to make a cash contribution may earmark such a gift for "Operation Shop Early."

—THIS WEEK—

CARMEL RED CROSS CHAPTER ORGANIZED

The second meeting of the Carmel Red Cross chapter was held at the Carmelo Hotel on September 19. The following officers were elected: Chairman, Mrs. E. E. Cobbe; assistant chairman, Mrs. Frances C. Pudan; secretary, Mrs. Louis S. Slevin; treasurer, Mrs. J. F. Devendorf.

Mrs. G. F. Beardsley and Mrs. Cobbe were appointed a committee to secure a meeting place which could be open daily.

It was moved and carried that the chapter adopt a French baby which necessitates the payment of $3 monthly. This amount, added to an equal amount given by the French government, enables a mother to keep her family together.

Mrs. Cobbe announced that she wanted to be responsible for one baby herself.

FRENCH BABY FUND

A card party for the benefit of the Adopted French Baby Fund of the Carmel chapter of the Red Cross will be held tomorrow at El Monte Verde. Go and have a few rounds of Whist, Bridge or Five Hundred. Cost 25 cents.

CENSUS COMPLETED

H. L. Warren, official census taker appointed by the Monterey County Board of Supervisors to enumerate the residents of the proposed City of Carmel, has about completed his labors and will turn in a report to the supervisors at their October meeting showing there is a total of approximately 540 inhabitants within the proposed city's boundaries.

DRAMATIC SCHOOL

The recent establishment of the Carmel School of Dramatic Art is in line with the character and aims of the community. Under the able direction of its founders, Mrs. Sidney Yard, Miss Helen Parkes and Miss Eunice T. Gray, it should be a credit to the town.

HERD WILL GROW

Recently eight more elk cows were liberated in Pebble Beach near the Seventeen Mile Drive. There has been a preponderance of bucks. The addition of the latest shipment is expected to result in a more rapid growth of the herd.

WHOSE HAT?

Probably O. Henry could get a story out of the black hat, decorated with the pathetic full-blown rose, which has been hanging in the lobby of the Carmel post office for several days.

FEW PROHIBITIONISTS

Nine Carmel residents were enough interested in the prohibition question, which is to be voted on throughout California next month, to attend the "dry" meeting at Carmel Hall last night.

LECTURE TOUR

During October and November. Dr. Preston W. Search of Carmel, will deliver his splendid lecture, "With Painters of Pictures and Writers of Books at Carmel-by-the-Sea" before educational institutions at many places in the United States.

CLUB NOTES

On a recent morning, bright and beautiful after days of fog, members of the Boys' Club went on a hike and picnic. Leader of the hike for the club and three dogs was Lewis Josselyn. The eucalyptus grove at San Jose Creek was reached in 40 minutes. The hill opposite Bay School made a tempting tobogan slide where the boys rolled and tumbled until weary.

PINE NEEDLES

The senior class at Monterey High School has elected Eugene Gillett as vice president. Nevera Smith is secretary of the sophomore class . . . The stork arrived at the home of Pon Sing this week bringing with him a fine fat boy. The name of Willis Pon now graces the census list. Another Native Son! (Pon Sing was a relative of Carmel's present Pon Chung.) . . . Mrs. J. J. Guichard and son, Carey, of Santa Cruz are spending a few weeks here.

BARRON WITH HUMPHREY

Gerald V. Barron, Monterey attorney and Democratic nominee for U. S. Congress from the 12th District, attended the Brown for Governor Dinner Monday night at the Century Plaza Hotel in Los Angeles, at the special invitation of Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey. Earlier, Mr. Barron was a member of the welcoming committee which met the vice-presidential plane at the airport and escorted Mr. Humphrey to the Century Plaza.

'Games' Author To Help Celebrate City's Birthday

A Carmel resident whose book has broken all nonfiction bestseller records will be a featured speaker in the ten-day celebration of Carmel's golden anniversary next month.

Monday night, Councilman Gunnar Norberg told the Sunset Commission that Dr. Eric Berne, psychiatrist and author of "Games People Play" will discuss "They Chose Carmel and They Still Do" on October 28 in Brey Hall at Carmel High School. This talk will revolve about famous persons who have chosen Carmel as their home.

Dr. R. A. Kocher will take part in a panel discussion, "Scientific Research in Carmel." A series of panel discussions is planned on writers who have lived here, also a panel on art.

The first event of the October 21-31 celebration of the incorporation of the city will be a concert by Gilbert Boyer of Carmel, internationally known pianist, in Sunset Center auditorium on October 21.

Another concert, on October 23, will be presented by the Beyer Trio, with Wade Parks, pianist, and Raymond Fabrizio, flutist.

On October 22, Donald Craig will narrate a history of "The Centuries Before the Fifty Years," prepared by Harry Downie, restorer of Carmel Mission Basilica and an authority on California history.

Other planned events are an old-timers breakfast on October 30. On Halloween, the birthday of the city, there will be a parade led by the Fort Ord Band, followed by a barbecue and outdoor dancing.

Also planned as part of the anniversary, are six performances of the Rodgers and Hammerstein musical, "Pipe Dream," based on "Sweet Thursday," a John Steinbeck novel about Monterey's Cannery Row. These will be given weekends in Sunset Center auditorium.

Stock Market Notes

By Hugh Hannon

Ambassador Goldberg's speech to the U.N. revealed a sharp change of administration policy from fear that negotiations with Hanoi and the Viet Cong would result in giving away hard fought military gains at the bargaining table to hopes of dealing with Viet Nam problems at the bargaining table instead of on the battle field. The following are big ifs; but if negotiations do start and if a peace agreement is actually reached, what will happen to our stock market?

The following is a very brief summary of the personal views of the manager of long range planning for one of our largest defense contractors. First, the potential for so-called "brushfire" war exists in many areas of the globe, in addition to Red China as a long term military threat. Second, lessons learned in Viet Nam, Dominican Republic and Lebanon appear certain to result in a major buildup of this nations global logistic network.

So it's very difficult to believe that government spending will much more than slow down from the present fever pitch. A slowdown, however, might ease the tight money situation enough to stop the current rise in interest rates. That would probably lead to a flow of money into utility, bank, and many income stocks. So peace in Viet Nam could mean a rising stock market.

A word of encouragement: the writer and owner of one of the leading statistical stock services recently stated that his figures indicate that the market is near the bottom of a drop like 1957 and 1962. He sees no evidence of the stock market dropping way down from current levels. This man has been very right in the past; but I wish there were someone who knew for sure. The longer a man tries to predict what the stock market will do, the more humble he becomes and the more expert in the art of double talk. However, the time to buy stocks is when they are down and they are down now. Nobody knows where the bottom is so it is as foolish to try to buy at the bottom as it is to have no cash in the bank, or too much cash in the bank. Don't forget the risk of prices of food, etc. eating away at the value of too much cash in the bank.

Hugh Hannon is with Irving Lundborg in Carmel.

FIESTA FLOWERS

Demonstrating a true ecumenical spirit, above, are members of the arts workshop and the "busy fingers" group at Canterbury Woods, who are making hundreds of beautiful paper flowers for the Fiesta de San Carlos de Borromeo to be held at Carmel Mission on October 9. Their lovely tutor, center, is Ranya Azar, a Persian student at Monterey Peninsula College who makes her home with Dr. and Mrs. Gerard Martin of Pebble Beach.

The cooperation of many non-Catholics, such as those included in the group above, helps to insure the success of this annual community party.

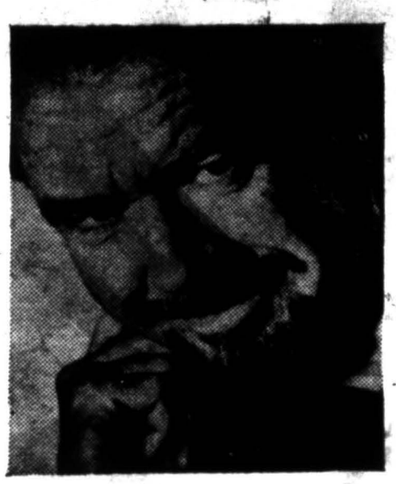
Actor Opens Woman's Club Season



DON KEEFER

Don Keefer, stage, screen and television actor, will open the new season of programs at the Carmel Woman's Club on October 3 at 2 p.m. with a one-man performance titled "Anton Chekhov and the Human Comedy." The program will depict the early Chekhov, a handsome, mirthful young country doctor as well as a sophisticated man of letters. Don Keefer, who adapted and arranged the material he presents, peoples the stage with characters out of Chekov's notes, letters and stories in such sketches as "How to Woo a Married Lady," "On the Harmfulness of Tobacco," and "A Lampoon on the Intelligentsia."

A charter member of the famous Actors' Studio in New York, Mr. Keefer has had a notable career in national television and on the New York stage, having played supporting roles with such theatre greats as Ethel Barrymore, Helen Hayes and Jose Ferrer. Now a resident of Southern California, he has recently been active with the Theatre Group of the University of California at Los Angeles.

Assisting on the hostess committee will be Mrs. Ray Esplen, Mrs. H. A. Prince, Mrs. Della C. Williams and Hazel Zimmerman. As is traditional at the first meeting of the club year, past presidents will preside at the tea tables. Those serving will be Ianthe Densmore, Mrs. Alexander W. Cleary, Mrs. Rhea Diveley and Mrs. H. C. Schroeder.

Art News . . .

Several exciting door prizes have already been donated for the forthcoming "Christmas Creations" show sponsored by the Monterey Peninsula Museum of Art Association. The annual event, to be held at the Mark Thomas Inn again this year, is scheduled for December 6-7, with a gala champagne preview the first evening.

Door prizes include a metal sculpture by Traylor Dunwoodie; a week's vacation for two at Kona Plantation, Hawaii; a lady's diamond wrist watch from Henri Corbat; and three individual "Main Chance" days at the Elizabeth Arden salon in San Francisco.

Assisting Mrs. William Arnold, chairman, are Mrs. Barbara Tripp, decorations, Mrs. Saul Weingarten, acquisitions, Mrs. Walter Jennings, tickets, and Mrs. Donald Hays, publicity.

Upon the successful completion of its first 16-week painting course, The Laky School of Art is launching its second session on October 10. The workshops will be from 10 a.m. to 1 p.m. every Monday for 16 weeks under the direction of George De Groat.

In general, the basic principles of painting, including design, composition and structure, are to be discussed and demonstrated with subject matter subordinated to form and content. The still life set up is used intially to develop these principles which are also applicable to landscape and figure painting.

In all cases instruction is aimed at helping the individual to follow his own unique approach to painting and drawing. Registration is now in progress.

Now in session on Monday evenings is a 16-week course in life drawing, also under the instruction of George De Groat. Materials being used are charcoal, pencil, conte crayon, ink washes and pen and ink, as well as combinations of these and other materials.

CARMEL FOUNDATION
(Phone 624-1588)

On November 19, a tour to San Francisco is scheduled to hear Julie Andrews in her new show "Hawaii". Tickets are $8.50. This sum includes admission and transportation. Lunch at Del Webb's Town House will be optional.

In order to clear misconceptions of Carmel Foundation among newcomers here let us tell you that the phone caller who asked "Do you carry Spirella bras?" was most certainly misinformed as to the function of this worthy organization. The history of the Carmel Foundation dates back to 1951 when it was organized with the express purpose of aiding elderly people to a fuller life. From time to time we shall enlarge upon the foundation's activities.

CARMEL VALLEY MANOR

Joe Ataide, a local artist, will conduct art classes in the craft room of Carmel Valley Manor, under the sponsorship of the Carmel Adult School. Classes convene every Monday and Wednesday morning from 9 until noon. Mrs. Pinkerton, also on the adult school staff, will conduct a class in tailoring and design twice a week. This class meets every Tuesday and Thursday from 1 until 4 p.m.

FOREST HILL MANOR
Pacific Grove

Today, Mrs. Dorothy Scott will be here with her own slides on "Wild Birds and Animals from Ocean to the High Sierra."

Mr. Wayne Edwards will give a travel talk, with slides, on Spain, Portugal and Morocco on October 6.

GAME NIGHT—will be held as usual on the third Thursday evening of the month, October 20.

CANTERBURY WOODS
Pacific Grove

During the month of October an art exhibit will be held in the lounge of Canterbury Woods to which the public is invited.

Paintings by a well known local artist, Mrs. Margaret Seagrave, will be exhibited. Mrs. Seagrave is a member of the Oakland Art Association, Hayward Art Association and Society of Western Artists in San Francisco. Among her numerous paintings is "Sand Dunes of Asilomar" which was hung in the SWA show by Western Artists at the Lit Gallery in Philadelphia, Pennsylvania, last May.

Residents of Canterbury Woods —watch for details concerning the entertaining "Getting to Know You" party scheduled sometime in October.

HACIENDA CARMEL
Carmel Valley

Helen Oehler and Gilbert Boyd of Hacienda Carmel each have their works hung in the second annual watercolor competitive sponsored by the Pacific Grove Kiwanis Club. The exhibit, in the Pacific Grove Museum of Natural History, continues through October 9 and features 62 paintings. N. Eric Oback, professor of art San Jose State College, was juror of the exhibit which is open to the public.

Helen Oehler has been honored by having two of her oils accepted for hanging in the 25th Annual Exhibit for the Society of Western Artists at the M. H. De Young Memorial Museum, Golden Gate Park, San Francisco, October 25 through November 20. Mrs. Oehler's works are entitled "September" and "Jason and His Birds."

PREPARE FOR TOMBOLA

Monterey Peninsula Volunteer Services members are busy preparing for the organization's annual Tombola on October 12 at the Monterey Fairgrounds. Ladies assigned to the household booth, above left to right, are Mrs. C. Getty Fairchild, Miss Gertrude Rendtorff, Mrs. Wilma Lazenby and Mrs. Allan Craig. Proceeds will be divided between the Monterey County Symphony Association, the Visiting Nurse Association and the Family Services Agency.

"September" has been selected for the Flax Artists Materials Award.

PINPOINT PROFILE
Dr. Blanchard E. Steeves

After spending many enjoyable years as an educator, Dr. Blanchard P. Steeves retired and with his wife, Neata, is now living at Forest Hill Manor in Pacific Grove.

Dr. Steeves was born in Eastern Canada and graduated from Dalhousie University as a mathematics-physics major in 1898.

It was while teaching in British Columbia that he met Neata, an art teacher. They were married in British Columbia.

As the years passed, he attended University of Washington in Seattle and in 1928 received his Ph.D. degree in education and psychology.

Later, in Hawaii, he taught theories of education and history of education; then went into the teacher training field. Dr. and Mrs. Steeves speak with much fervor when recounting their experiences in the 50th state. They both enjoyed their stay here.

In 1936 Dr. Steeves retired and for the next two years he and his wife travelled around the world, first to Australia and New Zealand, where they were so captivated by the freshness, beauty and friendliness of the people they remained for one year. Then on to Ceylon, Cairo, Southern France, Switzerland, Belgium, Wales and England. Finally home to Seattle in 1939.

It was while they were staying in the border town of Basle, Switzeland, they first heard the rumors of World War II. Having a certain knowledge of German they listened over the radio to Hitler and his cohorts.

One sunny day in Nice Dr. and Mrs. Steeves witnessed the last grand parade of the proud French Fleet sailing in the Mediterranean. Shortly after war began this entire fleet was sent to the bottom purposely by the French to keep it from falling into the hands of the Germans.

An amusing story is told by the Dr. Steeves. It was while they were travelling in Egypt, and like all other tourists, were anxious to see the pyramids. Someone suggested the best way was to go by camel which Dr. Steeves decided to do. Mrs. Steeves preferred one of the little donkeys to a camel. So away they went. Soon, however, she was waving as she passed her husband on his slow moving dromedary. These beasts are naturally lazy and dislike being hurried. But her little donkey was a peppy little fellow—eager to be on his way.

At 95 years of age we found the Dr. Steeves in wonderful health and good spirits. He maintained the only medicine the doctor prescribed for him is a good walk every day. This is sometimes a mile sometimes two miles, depending on the weather.

ECONOMIC CONSULTANT CONVENTION SPEAKER

Richard K. Lynn, associate of Dr. Robert Einzig, economic consultant for Wells Fargo Bank in San Francisco, examined the current shape of American business in his address "Economy at the Crossroads" at the convention of the Folding Paper Box Association of America in Carmel recently.

Mr. Lynn spoke of factors influencing the nation's economy including inflation, price problems and government policies, also touching on California's economic picture. The consultant, a former assistant professor at the University of California's graduate school of business, additionally offered a glimpse into what the coming months may bring for American business.

REPORTS FROM R.L.S

TWO R. L. S. STUDENTS IN MERIT COMPETITION

President and Headmaster Robert U. Ricklefs has announced that two seniors at Robert Louis Stevenson School have been named semifinalists in the 1966-67 Merit Scholarship competition.

The students cited for their high achievement are Student Body President Larry Kuechler and Terry Talbot.

They are among the highest-scoring students in California on the National Merit Scholarship Qualifying Test, administered last spring in 17,500 schools nationwide.

The semifinalists can advance to finalist status by receiving the endorsement of their schools, substantiating their qualifying test performance on a second examination, and submitting information about their achievements and interests. All Merit Scholars for 1967 will then be selected from the finalist group.

Semifinalists are representative of the country's most intellectually able young people, according to John M. Stalnaker, president of the National Merit Scholarship Corporation. "From them will come much of our future leadership," he said.

"These students bring honor not only to themselves, but also to their families, their teachers, and their communities," Stalnaker said. "Their success is the result of their own efforts, including well directed energy, usually coupled with the effective direction and encouragement of parents, friends, and teachers."

In past programs at least 97 percent of semifinalists have become finalists. Each finalist receives a certificate of merit in recognition of his distinguished performance in the program. Finalists are eligible for scholarships sponsored by NMSC and some 340 corporations, foundations, colleges, unions, trusts, professional associations, other organizations, and individuals.

High school grades, creative accomplishments, leadership qualities, extracurricular activities and school citizenship of the students are evaluated, along with test scores, in selecting Merit Scholars.

More than 13,000 students won Merit Scholarships in the first 11 years of the Merit Program, which was founded in 1955 with grants from the Ford Foundation and the Carnegie Corporation of New York. Over $48 million in financial assistance to Merit Scholars and their colleges has been expended or committed through the program to date.

Speech Workshop Saturday

The 3rd annual speech workshop of the Pacific Forensic League will be held on Saturday at Seaside High School beginning at 9:00 a.m.

The league covers a wide area from Gilroy and Santa Cruz in the North, to San Luis Obispo in the South, with some 32 high schools eligible to compete. Local schools active in the league, include Carmel High, Robert Louis Stevenson Prep, Monterey High, and Seaside. The York School, Santa Catalina School for Girls and Pacific Grove High have also indicated they might compete this year.

The workshop covers actual demonstrations of debate, oratory, impromptu, extempt, dramatic and humorous reading, and several other forensic events that high school students compete in during tournaments . . . There are nine tournaments scheduled this year.

League president last year was Curt Cureton of Monterey High School with John Miller of Seaside High as treasurer and Chandler R. Meloy of R.L.S. as secretary.

Entering forensic competition for the first time last year, Stevenson School students made great progress in both debate and individual events. They challenged the two top debate schools of Soquel and Seaside, and the top individual school, Monterey High, ending up with some 54 major trophies and awards for the year.

The feature event of the workshop this Saturday will be the debate demonstration between R.L.S. and Soquel. Debating for Stevenson, will be Smith Dungan (who competed in the State Finals last year) and Joseph Arsenio (just back from the debate workshop at the University of California at Santa Barbara). Twenty-five percent of the R.L.S. student body will attend the workshop.

Monterey High, Seaside High, R.L.S. and Soquel High Schools will also have students giving demonstrations in individual events. The program is open to the public and will conclude at 1:00 p.m., with several practice debates.

AL FRY GRUNSKY CHAIRMAN

Monterey County co-chairman for the campaign of Senator Donald L. Grunsky, Republican candidate for the 17th California Senatorial District, is Alfred G. Fry.

A graduate of the University of California and Cornell, Mr. Fry has been a Carmel resident since 1940. He is a past chairman of the Carmel Unified School District board of education and past president of the Monterey Peninsula Hotel Association.

GILBERT BOYER TO GIVE MPC CONCERT-LECTURES

Concert pianist Gilbert Boyer, who maintains a home in Carmel, will be featured in four concert-lectures on Chopin at Monterey Peninsula College during October.

The series, entitled "Frederic Chopin: Legend Versus Reality" will be presented on consecutive Monday evenings, October 3 through 24 - at 7:30 p.m. in the MPC Music Hall.

Each evening will open with a lecture by Boyer on the composer's life and compositions, to be followed by an illustrative piano concert. Among topics to be covered will be "Chopin's Favorite Composers: How They Influenced His Style;" "His Public Performance; What Repertoire Did He Play? How Did He Play?"; and "How Did Chopin's Health Affect His Composition?"

THE PICK AT THE BOTTOM OF THIS AD IS NOT A DECORATION!

It's a symbol. It indicates our special way of doing business...of digging deep to help make your money work harder...with:

One of the largest and most thorough research/analysis staffs in the business—51 analysts throughout the nation, including 35 in our New York office. And memberships on 18 leading stock and commodity exchanges. And 80 partners. And groups of experienced specialists in the fields of corporate financing; underwriting; mutual funds; municipal bonds; commodities; cashiering and accounting.

And that's not all. We go beyond the routine with special electronic tools—like Lectrascan and Stockmaster. And 50 thousand miles of private leased wire... connecting a network of 54 offices that stretches from Wall Street to Waikiki.

And these are just a few of the reasons many of our 284,000 customers recognize the pick at the bottom of our ads as a symbol...and not a decoration. You'll see it that way, too...when you deal with Dean Witter & Co.

Pebble Beach Man Chairman Of Board

Vice Admiral Earle W. Mills, (USN Ret.) has been elected chairman of the board of directors of Nuclear Engineering Company.

He was Chief of the Navy Department's Bureau of Ships, the agency responsible for the design, construction, and maintenance of Navy ships, from November 1946 to March 1949, the early period of the development of Atomic Energy in the Navy. He served as Assistant Chief of the Bureau of Ships during World War II, when the U. S. Navy became the greatest seapower in world history, and was awarded the Distinguished Service Medal for his engineering contributions to the Nation during that time.

Following his retirement from the Navy in 1949, Admiral Mills joined Foster Wheeler Corporation as a director and executive vice president. From 1950 through 1960 he held the offices of president and chairman of the board.

Admiral and Mrs. Mills now reside in Pebble Beach.

MORSE REGATTA WINNER

Dick Clark of Pebble Beach receives the S.F.B. Morse Regatta perpetual trophy from Mrs. Aime Michaud, who presented the awards in the absence of Mr. Morse. After the loss of his new Mercury on the rocks September 18, Dick borrowed his old boat to capture first place in all three races in the series. He was also winner of the annual event last year.

Brilliant sunshine, steady breezes and smooth seas greeted the Stillwater Yacht Club fleet last weekend for the postponed regatta, in which second place went to Larry Washburn, the club's port captain and master of ceremonies during awards at the Beach Club after the final race on Sunday. Two young sailors new to the fleet this season, Dan Hudson and Dave Orton, took third and fourth, respectively. Veteran sailor and past commodore Tom Perry won his first trophy with a fifth place. Though lamenting that he can't eat bread, Tom's pride in the silver bread tray he received is not in the least diminished.

NEW BRIDGE AT BIG SUR

The California Highway Commission on September 22 budgeted $673,046,761 for state highway construction purposes. Included in this sum is $370,000 to replace the existing timber bridge across Pfeiffer Canyon on Highway One one mile south of Big Sur. A wider concrete structure with new approaches will be built.

OWL PROWL

Mrs. Louise Hatton has invited members of the Monterey Peninsula Audubon Society to her ranch in Calera Canyon, Corral de Tierra, on Saturday for an owl prowl. The outing starts with a bird walk at 4 p.m. followed by supper and a walk to identify owl calls from 5:30-9 p.m. Members are asked to bring a picnic supper.

U. S. Senate Approves Southern California Desalination Plant

The Senate has approved unanimously Federal financial and technical participation, as proposed by U. S. Senator Thomas H. Kuchel, in a gigantic combination salt water conversion and power generation plant planned to supply mounting Southern California needs.

Under the Kuchel bill, jointly sponsored by five other Senators, the Interior Department and the Atomic Energy Commission would be partners with four California public and private utilities in building and operating a nuclear-fueled facility to be erected on a man-made island off the Orange County coast. The installation would turn out 150,000,000 gallons of fresh water daily and have an electric energy capacity of 1,800 million watts. The utilities and federal combine will spend "more than one-third of a billion dollars" with the Federal Government contributing $72,200,000.

Details of the offshore plant, Kuchel observed, "intrigued and excited" his Interior Committee. Commenting the enterprise should open "a new era in water resource development," he described it as ample to meet needs of a city as big as San Francisco, with yield forty times that of the biggest now existing or over 100 times the capacity of the experimental San Diego facility moved a few years ago to support the Guantanamo (Cuba) naval base, and producing more electricity than Hoover Dam.

MPVS ASKS DONATIONS FOR TOMBOLA MART

Columbus Day, October 12, will see three sails hoisted to garner funds at the Tombola Mart, Monterey Peninsula Volunteer Services' tantalizing sale at the Monterey Fairgrounds for the benefit of the Family Service Agency, the Monterey County Symphony and the Visiting Nurse Association.

To help load the treasure ships of this charity armada, assistance is needed in providing merchandise for this international market place —items accmulating dust in your closets, craft or art objects you have created, all the "goodies" you have put aside but forgotten to give to another worthy cause. Donations are now being received at Magyar Co., 725 Cannery Row, Monterey, on Monday, Wednesday and Friday, 9 a.m.-12 p.m. For pick-up, phone Mrs. Underwood (659-4559).

Lyceum To Present Four Fall Seminars

The Lyceum of the Monterey Peninsula held its annual Fall meeting with school liaison representatives on September 21. Present were administrators, principals and teachers from Peninsula public school districts, also private schools.

The Lyceum has scheduled four seminars for this Fall. A seminar in medicine will be held Monday evenings, October 5 to November 16. This seminar is open to students in grades 11 or 12 with a sincere interest in medicine. Physicians participating in the seminar are Donald F. Taugher, Donald M. Scanlon, Gerald Martin, Robert G. Frost, Arnold Manor, Robert L. Black, Osman Hull, Jack Daniels, William R. Lewis, and Alfred Gianascol.

Professor C. C. Torrance of the U. S. Naval Postgraduate School will present a seminar, "Introduction to College Mathematics," Monday evenings, October 10 to November 14. This series is for students in grades 9 and 10 who have a high aptitude in mathematics. Fields to be studied include analytic geometry, calculus, probability, and symbolic logic.

A seminar, "The Law and Its Operation" will be available to qualified and interested students of grades 10 to 14. Meetings will be held on Monday evenings October 10 to 31. The various aspects of a legal career will be explained and discussed by the following attorneys W. R. Rosecrans, Tom Moore, Lewis L. Fenton, Dean Donald Campbell, William Burleigh, Kenneth Ehrman, and Sam L. Foster.

Selected sixth grade boys will be eligible to attend a seminar entitled "The Sea, the Ship, and Science." U. S. Naval Postgraduate School officers Cdrs. L. I. Moore and D. A. Still, Lcdrs. A. Nevarez and M. F. Combs, and Lt. R. E. Lawton will relate their scientific and technical specialties to the ship and the sea.

Students are nominated for the various Lyceum programs by their own schools. There is a registration cost of $2.50 per seminar for each student. Scholarships are available.

From A Librarian's Notebook

By Ruth Galvin Thornburg, City Librarian

Pope Paul VI when speaking with the priests in Milan, during his service as Cardinal Montini, gave them much sage wisdom and kindly advice. He spoke to them of the special graces and secret urgings of the Holy Spirit that could help them realize the ideal priest. We have now a selection of these wise advices collected into a book entitled THE PRIEST. It is unfortunate that the book has no index, but the table of contents has short notes under each chapter title which will be helpful in guiding the reader.

ROYAL VENDETTA, THE CROWN OF SPAIN, 1829-1965, is the complete title of a book of Spanish history by Theo Aronson. This is a most readable account, so much so that you might almost take it to be fiction. The illustrations are photographs. There are many books on Spanish history in our collection but few more entertaining and readable than this one.

It would seem that someone is always investigating the college student—his drug habits, his social or anti-social behavior, his financial agreements, the works ! ! Comes now an investigation of his sex habits, published under the title SEX AND THE COLLEGE STUDENT and edited by people known as the Group for the Advancement of Psychiatry. This is a book for parents of college students and for the students themselves. It seems to discuss and explain the sex practices of college students in some detail.

A Hoover Institution publication is MARXISM IN THE MODERN WORLD, edited by Milorad Drachkovitch, who is a senior staff member of the institution. Actually, the book was written by several other members, each one writing of a particular type or branch of communism. Thus we have the book discussing in some detail Leninism, Stalinism, Krushchevism, Titoism, Maoism, Castroism, and pluralistic Communism. This book is most important at this time and in all our times.

A beautiful small book is THE MYSTIC IN THE THEATRE, ELEANORA DUSE, by Eva LeGallienne. Although it is classified as a biography of Duse, it really is not so, and it should have been classed with books on theatre, at least for this library. It is one artist telling of another, telling not only of her life but also of her acting, of her mystic philosophy, of her great understanding of all life, of her innate remoteness.

In HERE IS YOUR ENEMY, James Cameron shows us the exasperating, beautiful, illogical, utterly oriental people of Viet Nam. Cameron was given a visa for a trip to the country after having asked for one many times over the years and each time being refused without comment. Suddenly, he made it ! ! Almost at once he departed and after arriving in Hanoi he was allowed to mingle with the people there and talk to any of them he wished. Finally he was granted an interview by Ho Chi Minh, the Universal Uncle Ho. Cameron's picture of the Vietnamese is altogether charming and interesting. Read HERE IS YOUR ENEMY and see if it will change your idea of this enemy.

TOASTMASTERS SEEKING NEW MEMBERS

After a summer of adjournment, the Carmel Toastmasters resumed their regular weekly meeting on Wednesday evening at the Carmel High School library. The first meeting indicated that there was room for 20 new members. Men who are interested in learning how to conduct meetings and how to speak before groups are invited. For information, phone Clem Trapkus, newly elected president of the club.

NOTICE OF INTENTION TO CIRCULATE PETITION RELATING TO ANNEXATION OF CERTAIN TERRITORY TO THE CITY OF CARMEL-BY-THE-SEA UNDER THE ANNEXATION ACT OF 1913

The undersigned proponents of a petition relating to annexation of certain inhabited territory to the City of Carmel-by-the-Sea, under the Annexation Act of 1913, hereby give notice of intention to circulate said petition in the County of Monterey. The territory sought to be annexed is designated as "MISSION TRACT II" and is described as follows:

It is contiguous to the southern boundary of the city and is bounded by Santa Lucia Avenue on the North, to include Dolores Street on the West, to include Rio Road on the East, and to include all property fronting on Franciscan Way.

Summary of the reasons why "MISSION TRACT II" should be annexed to the City of Carmel-by-the-Sea:

Because we wish to be a part of a community which has maintained its belief in the paramount importance of retaining and protecting its beauty; and

Because we prefer to be represented in local community government. instead of at a distance by the County Board of Supervisors; and

Because we believe that the principles which have been established by the City of Carmel-by-the-Sea are those in which we can place our trust for the future; and

Because we desire better fire and police protection than can be provided our area by the County;

We, the proponents for annexation of Mission Tract II, wish to be annexed to the City of Carmel-by-the-Sea.

By: Hugh Bayless, Secretary
Date of Pub.: September 29, 1966

Belvail Appointed Acting Fire Chief

Discussed during a two hour and 28 minute secret session of the city council Tuesday night were matters pertaining to the Carmel Fire Department, Mayor Stephen Grant stated. Closeted with the council were Assistant Fire Chief James R. Belvail, Batallion Chief James Kelsey and City Administrator Hugh Bayless.

Afterwards Bayless read a report of the council announcing that Belvail is now Carmel's acting fire chief on a temporary basis until a new chief is selected to replace J. Robert Baker who was fired on September 15.

Belvail will receive a salary of $715 a month while he heads the department. He occupied the acting chief job before and during the interval between the resignation of Robert E. Smith from the fire chief job and the appointment of Baker a year ago.

ASTUTE OWNERS WISHING TO SELL ARE AWAKE!

They know a more prompt sale can be made if they carry the loan themselves. So, we offer the following with "built-in" financing:

1. CARMEL—Spacious 2 bedroom conventional architecture in highly choice location AND a furnished studio on over-sized lot. $36,500.
2. CARMEL—3-bedroom, recently modernized. Coveted location. Guest house. Furnished or unfurnished. $42,500.
3. YANKEE POINT—Ultra modern 3-bedroom home. Many deluxe features. Carpeted throughout. Sweeping ocean view. $55,000 plus actual cost of landscaping now being done.
4. MONTEREY — Residential income property. Four delightful small houses (although one does have 3 bedrooms) each on legal building site. Open to offers. Try $60,000 with $12,000 down.
5. MISSION FIELDS—Modern 3 bedroom, 2 bath and family room. Assume existing 4½% G.I. Make reasonable down payment. Owner will carry 2nd. $26,500 or try $26,000. You might lease at $190 with option to buy.

Perhaps we have others where same plan would put you in posession of a good house with good terms. Don't let the "tight money market" paralyze you!

A BUG'S EAR WITH A PROBLEM

We just listed an adorable little house, cute as the proverbial bug's ear, three blocks from town. It's unusual as our small houses go because while it has charm and delightful detailing and a lovely woodsy setting (with a brook in the back yard), it is nevertheless VERY well built, with a heavy shake roof, hardwood floors, heavy stained lap-siding exterior. The interior decorating and beautiful customing curtaining contribute to its cozy, spinning wheel charm. The problem? Oh. Well, it doesn't have a garage. (There's room for one, though, if you want it.) The price is $25,000 and we'd recommend you see it very soon if you have been looking for that well done small home.

WE'VE GOT A SECRET! There is a very good home on the market in a top location, on an oversized lot. There are 3 bedrooms, (1 delightfully large), 2 baths, open beam living room, and sunny kitchen and patio. It's on the market for $47,500. This doesn't tell you much about this lovely home and the owner asks that we give no phone information, but we'd be delighted to show it to you by appointment.

SAUNA BATH ANYONE? One goes with this newish family home in a quiet and convenient Carmel area. You also get 3 nice bedrooms, 2 tiled baths, and open beamed living room, a sparkling kitchen and family-dining room. Central heat, of course. The corner location affords sunny patio space for BBQs and children's play. Only $31,500 for this and you'd better see it!

ONLY 3 LEVEL BLOCKS from, and south of Ocean we have a very comfortable, well built home to show you. There are 3 bedrooms, 2 baths, living room with corner fireplace (a peek at the ocean too!), panelled dining room and kitchen. Central heat for comfort. The yard is attractively landscaped and easy to care for. Ideal location and only $41,500.

Annexation

Brigadier General Robert Williams (USA ret), spokesman for the residents seeking annexation to the city, was co-signer of the application filed by the city, indicating that the territory in question contained 8.7 acres with a population of 58 adults. The land is assessed at $72,370, improvements at $170,600. Out of 34 property owners, 24—or 71%—favor annexation. They do so, General Williams says, "because we are geographically and socially a part of Carmel. We want adequate police and fire protection and the right to vote in community affairs . . . we want to be part of a community which has maintained its belief in the paramount importance of retaining and protecting its beauty . . . believe the principles which have been established by Carmel are those in which we can place our trust in the future." These words will be contained in the petition for annexation which will be circulated among the residents.

Mr. Carr told the commission that since his interest in annexation last year, he now feels that the combination of proposed installation of fire hydrants and the formation of fire district and service areas, protection will be adequate in unincorporated areas. He maintained that annexation of splinter areas would decrease the county assessed evaluation from the recently-formed service areas. "We know," said Mr. Carr, "the proportionate value in being annexed to the city is not equal to the taxes (we would have to pay)."

John Coates of Carmel Woods, chairman of the Suburban Area Council, told the commission that the assessed valuation of District 42 is $43 million; that the 10c per $100 assessment, "voluntarily requested," would bring in enough to purchase a fire truck properly designed to meet the approval of the State Division of Forestry for fighting structural fires and that bids are out for such a vehicle. The income would also cover hiring a full-time dispatcher, fire fighter and driver on a full-time basis. Mr. Coates stated that the county water company had advised him that fire plugs for those areas which do not have them are now on order. The cost of the hydrants is believed not to be included in the 10c tax for fire protection in county service areas. According to General Williams, the cost of installation of hydrants is estimated at $4,000-$5,000 each. Mr. Coates further maintained that the Carmel Fire Department would have to bring tank trucks to any fire within Mission Tract II, if annexed, since there are no hydrants there. General Williams pointed out that two Carmel hydrants are now within 200 feet of his residence. In spite of their proximity, General Williams said, he had been advised by his insurance company that no reduction in the rate for fire coverage could be allowed because the hydrants belong to the city.

All opponents expressed satisfaction with police protection through the county sheriff's department. Dan Daly, who explained that he was a property owner in the immediate area not to be annexed, expressed the opinion that the move to join the city is in conflict with maintaining the county service area, chipping away at public service districts which the county supervisors had not intended to be excluded. Whiting Reed, owner of property on Franciscan Way, supported the other opponents present in his contention that adequate police and fire protection now exists, adding that the State Forestry Division is superior to a volunteer department. Mr. Reed contended that the majority of property owners in the Mission Tract, Carmel Point, etc., have been against annexation since the first moves were instigated.

Keith Evans, chairman of the Monterey County Planning Commission, speaking as a property owner in the area seeking annexation, said that he "seconded General William's statements completely. Urbanized areas should be annexed to the cities. I am completely willing," he stated, to pay additional taxes for better police and fire protection. The majority of the owners in the area are in favor of this. The time to decide is in the voting booth."

Admiral Fisher

a resolution, incorporating Admiral Fisher's remarks, to be sent to the California Senate and Assembly, the State Division of Highways, the Monterey County Board of Supervisors and the Monterey Peninsula Area Planning Commission.

Admiral Fisher made it plain that neither he, nor the Citizens Committee, are against development of more roads on the Peninsula. They favor a road in Hatton Canyon, if it is a meandering thoroughfare preserving natural beauty, but not the proposed freeway extension in the canyon which will necessitate "outrageous" cuts and fills. He also said that connecting roads from Carmel Valley to the Salinas highway were desirable.

On behalf of the Citizens Committee, Admiral Fisher presented to the commission a scale model showing desirable meandering road development in Hatton Canyon and the hillside area west and north of the canyon. Chairman Dorothy von Meier assured Admiral Fisher that the model will be suitably displayed in Carmel's City Hall in expressing thanks for the gift.

Architect and Planner Gordon Hall promised the commission that he would give a presentation of High Meadow subdivision, northeast of Carmel, on October 19.

After receiving a detailed report on the duties of planning director from Floyd Adams, who attended his last meeting yesterday in this capacity, commissioners decided to send a copy of the report to the city council, also to devote a study session on October 10 at 7:30 p.m., to review the information supplied by Adams.

For the commission to carry on its work without Floyd Adams will be like undertaking a new sport like flying, Commissioner George Willox observed. "We will see how we do on a trial run next month," was Chairman von Meier's comment. Mr. Adams will be on vacation during this period and will retire in November.

Police Station Sale Postponed One Month

Any consideration of offers to purchase the two-lot site of the present police station at Mission and Seventh was postponed until October 25 by the city council on Tuesday night. Indicated was the fact that bids from the floor will be considered subject to the condition that any such offer is equal to or in excess of $90,000 and accompanied by adequate evidence of financial responsibility of the bidder, also that conditions of payment for the property to the city are sufficiently defined as to make it possible for the council to give fair judgment to any such offer.

Tuesday, August Nieto and Wesley Ball, Carmel realtors, stated that a previous offer for the property from Saul Weingarten and Stanley Weiss had been withdrawn. Instead they had presented another offer to the council. The prospective purchaser was not named.

"It is the obligation of the city council to obtain the very best terms of sale," Councilman Eben Whittlesey stated in defense of postponing consideration this week and entertaining bids from the floor next month.

Councilman Gunnar Norberg voted against the motion to consider offers next month. He favored the city retaining the property for in lieu parking and selling parking spaces at $5,000 each. The $90,000 price, appraised by the Carmel Board of Realtors, would be paid in this manner, he pointed out. Councilman Herbert Blanks also voted against the postponement.

The week before, the council struck consideration of the sale of the police station from its calendar after realtors representing a prospective buyer did not appear at a special meeting set to consider the sale. Tuesday night, Mr. Nieto pointed out that he had not been informed of the council's setting the meeting forward one day from the date set earlier.
